

GLOBAL WARMING AS THE MODERN FLOOD MYTH

PRESENTED BY: FRED BORCHARDT

The Great Flood by Michelangelo (1513), Fresco on the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel in the Vatican.

Myths of a Great Flood or Deluge on a global scale have existed since the beginning of time and are to be found in almost every culture in the world.

The similarities between these myths are striking, suggesting a powerful collective archetypal pattern.

Fred will explore a few of these myths, towards identifying an underlying archetypal pattern contained in the Flood Myths.

The current scientific theory of Global Warming will also be explored as a potential modern manifestation of the archetypal Flood Myth. The impact it has on our collective psyches will be examined.

More About FLOOD MYTH

Finally the lecture will look at the idea of a great Flood or Deluge from an intrapsychic perspective, as it presents in dreams and Active Imagination. We will explore the impact of this archetypal symbol when it arises in the individual psyche.
